

MOST RESEARCHERS FEEL THAT THERE IS AN EXPECTATION THAT GOOD RESEARCHERS ARE INTERNATIONALLY MOBILE

of researchers agree that there is an expectation of international mobility in the research community

This is supported by the wider survey findings, such as the observation that career development is a key driver of mobility

This is felt by a majority of respondents across genders, disciplines, types of institution, nationalities, and previous mobility experiences:

Read more:

International mobility of researchers—a survey of researchers in the UK
Susan Guthrie, Catherine Lichten, Emma Harte, Sarah Parks and Steven Wooding